Venice is made up of 119 islands connected to one another by various bridges and overpasses. The Ponte della Libertà connects Mestre city to Venice Piazzale Roma, a large square located right at the entrance of Venice. It is the only place that is accessible to cars and buses. The Piazzale is not particularly interesting for tourists but it is important because if you fly to Venice and land in Marco Polo Airport or Treviso Airport and take a bus to the heart of the city, you will arrive in this square.

How to reach Venice

How to reach Venice from Treviso or Venice airports

Treviso Antonio Canova Airport

If you fly to Venice and land in Treviso Antonio Canova Airport, you can reach Venice Piazzale Roma by bus using the ATVO Treviso Bus Express line (<https://bit.ly/3JOaddb>).

Tickets cost approximately 12 Euros (one luggage included) for a one-way ticket; approximately 22 Euros (one luggage included) for a return ticket.

The journey is approximately 1hour long.

Venice Marco Polo Airport

If you are going to land in Venice Marco Polo Airport, you can reach Venice Piazzale Roma by bus using the ATVO Venice Bus Express line (<https://bit.ly/3t14nhP>).

Tickets cost approximately 8 Euros (one luggage included) for a one-way ticket; approximately 15 Euros (one luggage included) for a return ticket.

The journey is approximately 20min long (35min if you take the route through Mestre Train Station).

Alternatively, you can reach Venice Piazzale Roma from Marco Polo airport by bus using the ACTV Line 5 (<https://actv.avmspa.it/en/content/urban-lines-0>). While, to reach Mestre from Marco Polo airport, you can use ACTV line 15.

Tickets cost approximately 8 Euros for a one-way ticket; approximately 15 Euros for a return ticket.

From Venice Marco Polo Airport, you can reach the heart of Venice also by water bus using the Alilaguna (<https://www.alilaguna.it/en/lines/lines-map>) Blue and Orange lines.

The Blue line (<https://www.alilaguna.it/en/lines/linea-blu/orario>) connects Venice Marco Polo Airport with the Cruise Terminal, passing through San Marco.

The Orange line (<https://www.alilaguna.it/en/lines/linea-arancio/orario>) connects Venice Marco Polo Airport with the Railway Station, passing through Rialto and S. Maria del Giglio.

How to reach Venice from Venezia-Mestre train station

From Venezia-Mestre train station you can catch a train to Venice Santa Lucia.

Tickets cost approximately 1,50 Euros.

The journey is approximately 10min long.

Meeting venue

NH LAGUNA PALACE, Venice-Mestre

The NH Venezia Laguna Palace hotel is a striking, contemporary hotel in Venice-Mestre. This landmark building features one of the largest glass-covered structures in Europe. The hotel enjoys a great location: it's located at only 5 minutes from Mestre train station and is just 10-minute journey by car or by bus from the city's historical center. The hotel faces a marina, so it does provide water access, too.
